

Colorwave, Antelope Canyon #4

This dramatic drawing is of Antelope Canyon. These are upper and lower slot canyons located in Arizona. I was able to take a guided photographers tour of the beautiful water carved walls which allowed me to produce this seven-piece series. Colorwave's saturated blues, purples, oranges and pinks look like a tidal wave of color!

Its close-up view is realistic yet also looks abstract. The viewer is pulled into the motion of this color wave. It's a fun piece to "get lost in" visually, so many nuances and textures.
